VOL. CXXXII—No. 21 ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 26, 1916 PRICE 2, CENTS.

TO SPEND $25,000 ON THE STREETS

Several Resolutions For Improvements Submitted to Council

PERIOD IS EXTENDED

Both Branches Pass Ordinance Making it Obligatory to Tap Sewers by Before August 1, 1916.

The compulsory sewer tap law which was to have become operative today has been postponed until August 1. This action was taken by both branches of the city council at its meeting last night following an ordinance asking for a postponment introduced by Councilman Desmond.

When Mr. Desmond introduced the ordinance to extend the time limit for tapping the sewers he left the date open.

Councilman Brockett said he thought three months would be sufficient extention as six months was granted the last time.

Mr. Desmond said he introduced the measure at the request of many citizens and also in view of the uncertain weather conditions. During January he said $1,500 had been paid into the city treasury for sewer taps, which he said, did not look as if citizens were endeavoring to evade the law, and added that all they asked was a little time.

An extension until August 1, was then favored, by Mr. Brockett, who said that the city had taken notes for street improvements and he thought this would be a good idea in connection with the sewer work.

Councilman Lawler, said he hoped no further extension would be asked, and he did think notes would be a good feature.

Councilman Bales said he was opposed to the proposed extension. He said he had been informed that it does not require a city ordinance to enforce the sewer tap law, as there is state laws on the subject. He expressed the opinion that there are some people who don't intend to comply with the law if they can evade it.

Councilman Harrison said it is not altogether the fault of the property owners, it sometimes being the fault of the plumber in not being able to do all the work. He added that most of those who have tapped thus far were poor people and that $12,000 was paid into the treasury last year for sewer taps.

Councilman Taylor Burke, said he would vote for an extension of time provided arrangements are made for taking notes from those unable to pay cash. He added that there is always a pathetic appeal brought up each time the ordinance is about to be enforced.

Councilman H. R. Burke said that for the past three months it was an uncertain proposition about doing out door work, and he thought the payment of $12,000 last year is good evidence that the people are trying to comply with the law. He also expressed hope that arrangements would be made to take notes for the work from those unable to pay cash.

Councilman Bales said he would vote for the extension more out of sympathy than anything else.

The suggestion was made by Councilman Lawler that all pledge themselves to give no further extension of time after August 1,

The ordinance was subsequently adopted.

Appropriations totaling $23,300 for road improvements in the recently annexed territory were referred to the joint committee on finance and streets. Three resolutions were presented for this work, two being for what was formerly a part of Fairfax county and the third for what was formerly a part of Alexandria county. In each instance it is provided that the funds be taken from twelve per cent of the asessed value of the property in the annexed territory, in accordance with the terms of the decree of the court regarding the expenditure of funds for permanent improvements in this territory.

The first ordinance is for the expenditure of $9,000 for a 19 foot bituminous macadam roadway from Leesburg turnpike to the new corporation line on Russel road.

The second its for $5,300 for a similar roadway from the old corporation line beginning at Stone bridge near Ballenger's store.

The third for $9,000 from roadway on King street westward to Janney's lane.

The preliminary plans for the city acquiring the Armory Hall property were taken with the adoption of a resolution that the joint committee on finance and public property employ an attorney to prepare a deed for the property and have all claims pending against the company certified providing the trust and claims do not exceed $3,600.

A resolution was also introduced that the sum of $3,600 be appropriated for payment of trust and outstanding claims against Armory Hall. This was referred to the joint committee on finance and public property.

Through the street committee the city engineer reported that cost of putting a bituminous surface on N. Washington street would be $2,500 and cost of improving South Washington street with same construction would be $1,600.

Councilman Brockett asked for a report on the redistricting of the wards from the committee that has the matter under consideration by the next meeting.

Mr. Brockett also told council that he had ascertained from the city engineer that the cost of a five foot granolithic sidewalk from Union Station to Rosemont would be about $300 to $325, and he hoped the street committee would investigate the matter Part of the money could be paid by the property owners and the residue by the city, he said. He hoped such a walk would be laid and ultimately continued to Braddock.

President Smith suggested that Mr. Brockett, prepare an ordinance to this effect, and Mr. Brockett said he would do so and present it at the next meeting.

Mr. Brockett favored a systematic plan for uniform sidewalks, the property owners to pay two-thirds of the cost and the city one-third.

The other business transacted will be found in the official proceedings.

Board of Aldermen.

Six members of the Board of Aldermen were present. The body was in session less than an hour, and the business presented caused no discussion. There was some interchange of opinion on certain measures, but the votes were unanimous in each case. The action of the Common Council on all measures sent in was unanimous in each case.

TEASPOONS SAVE LIFE.

Doctor Uses Them, A Penknife and a Rubber Tube in Operation on a Woman.

Elkins, W. Va., Jan. 26.—With no instrument other than two tin teaspoons, a small pocket knife and a piece of rubber tubing cut from a fountain syringe, Dr. H. W. Daniels, of the City Hospital, operated on a dying woman at her mountain home, near Beverly, Monday night and saved her life. Believing that she was affected with only a sore throat, Mrs. Thurman Coberly suffered for several days, and sent for Dr. Daniels and Dr. Glenn W. Harper after discovering that her condition was critical.

After a wild ride through the darkness they arrived at the Coberly home, to find Mrs. Coberly dying with diphtheria, Seeing that her condition was such that life would be extinct in a few minutes and having no surgical instruments whatever, Dr. Daniels made an incision into the throat and windpipe with his pocket knife and using two tin teaspoons bent double as retractors, inserted the rubber tube, Respiration was restored and within a few hours the patient regained consciousness. In the meantime a hurried trip on horseback was make to Elkins to secure antitoxin. Mrs. Coberly's condition has so far improved yesterday that her recovery seems certain.

WILSON STARTS CONGRESS COGS

Interview With Leader Kitchin Evolves First Step in Action

PRECEDE TAX ISSUE

President Shifts Position and Decides on Tariff Commission Free From Politics.

Washington, Jan. 26—The President preparing his tour during which he will appeal directly to the people for their support of his national defense plan, trained his guns on Congress yesterday. For an hour Claude Kitchin, the majority leader of the lower House, was at the White House. His interview with the President was the first to occur since Kitchin announced his opposition to the Presidential program for increasing the army and navy forces of the nation.

The interview resulted in a clearer understanding between the Democratic President and the leader of his party in Congress, although it did not materially change the attitude of the latter toward the things that the President most desires.

In two or three matters the President and Kitchin were of the same mind. One was that, irrespective of the result of the fight over the national defense program, no more time should be wasted in idle and futile discussions over the preliminaries, but that an organized and systematic effort be made to dispose of that and other features of the legislative schedule in time to permit adjournment of Congress in June, before the hold- of the national convention.

Representative Kitchin gave assurance that there was no disposition on the part of the House to delay legislation, pointing out that within the next few weeks action would be taken on several important appropriation and other bills. The President has been told, however, that there is danger of long delays in the Senate in debates over national defense, shipping, tariff and revenue bills.

The outstanding features of the legislative program for the next few months, as Kitchin forsees them, are:

A Tariff Commission bill will be reported by the Ways and Means Committee.

No revenue measure is likely to be reported until after the Military and Naval Committies bring in their bills This may be weeks or months.

No new waterways projects, and no new public building bills will be considered.

Tn anti-dumping clause for the tariff law may be reported later.

In addition to these measures, the shipping bill and the Philippine bill are expected by other Congressional leaders to attract the most attention.

As a result of the decision of the Supreme Court, upholding the income tax law, the President is studying anew the problem of raising revenues for the Government, particularly for the preparedness program. He will not consider details, however, until after his return from his Middle Western trip.

Unqualified, non-partisan support of military preparedness was urged yesterday by Minority Leader Mann in an ringing speech on the floor of the House. He was heartily and repeatedly applauded by both sides of the chamber.

ENGLAND DETERMINED

Will Fight to a Finish Even if Compelled to "Go it Alone."

Washington, Jan. 25—Out of the discussion in which diplomatic Washington has been engaged since the news was published that Germany considered making a separate peace with Belgium, there developed yesterday one positive opinion. This opinion is that no official action by Germany will follow the inspired articles published in German newspapers and that the publication itself was in the nature of a "peace feeler."

Reports that Germany is considering also making separate peace with France, Russia and Italy is characterized in informed quarters as "made-in-Germany" speculations.

British Embassy officials, however refused to discuss the matter in any way. From an authoritative source however, it was learned that the attitude of the British government is this:

First—That Great Britain will continue waging war on Germany, however long it may take to win the kind of victory that will leave Germany powerless for a hundred years to resume her place in the world as a first class fighting power.

Second—That Great Britain will maintain this fight-to-a-finish policy, no matter whether Germany succeeds in concluding separate peace with every one of her allies.

Third—That the desertion of Belgium from the cause the allies are fighting for will make no difference in the British determination to continue fighting until all the proposals outlined by the prime minister in his Guild Hall speech, more than a year ago, have been achieved; and

Fourth—That peace for Germany, at least so far as Great Britain is concerned, will come only when Germany is either willing to submit to British terms or when she has been so badly beaten as to make submission necessary.

APPROVES REPEAL OF PENSION LAW

House Committee Recommends Bill Protecting Judge James Keith

PROHIBITION FIGHT

Split on Proposal to Create Moral Welfare Commissioner—Move to Abolish Lewdness.

Richmond, Jan. 26—By a divided vote, the House Committee for Courts of justice reported favorably yesterday the bill introduced by Delegate Buck ,which provides for the repeal of the act passed in 1914, providing pensions for judges of the State Supreme Court of Appeals upon retirement after twelve years of continuous service, and after they have reached the age of seventy years.

Before voting to report the measure, however, the committee engrafted an amendment which provides that the repeal shall not apply to Supreme Court judges who retire from service during the years 1916 and 1917. With respect to these, the terms of the act of 1914 remain in full force and effect. The amendment will protect Judge James Keith, who will retire February 1, 1917, and who will be succeeded o nthe bench by Judge Frederick William Sims, of Louisa.

Governor Henry C. Stuart, backed by some of the ablest members of the House and Senate, strong prohibitionists but not enamoured of the leadership of Rev. James Cannon, Jr., has the whip hand in the fight to prevent the appointment of a prohitition commissioner who is to be independent of the authority of the governor.

Dr. Cannon cannot win in his attempt to shear the chief executive of the State of a large part of his authority and to make himself the real power behind the throne in the administration of the prohibition laws, is the opinion of observers of the situation. A majority of all the members of each branch of the legislature will be necessary, if the Anti Saloon League bill providing for the creation of the office of commissioner of moral and social welfare, or prohibition commissioner—to give it the less pretentious and more commonly used title—is to be enacted into law. Two-thirds of each branch must vote affirmatively if the bill, once passed, is to be enacted over the veto of the governor ,should the latter care to exercise that power.

That necessary forty-one votes in the House and twenty-one votes in the Senate has been not obtained, according to a count made by those leading the fight for the Strode-Addison bills, making the governor the chief executive in this, as in other matters left to him by the constitution of the State. There will be no need of the exercise of the right of veto for the Anti Saloon League commissioner will never be named declared these leaders.

The Anti-Saloon League bills have not been introduced, but are expected to make their appearance shortly. The details of the measures are unknown outside the sacred circles of the Anti Saloon League leaders, but their general purport is no secret, having been foreshadowed by the report of the legislative committee of the league made to the convention last week. Of chief interest is the proposal to create the office of commissioner of moral welfare, and it is here that the fight will center, with the prohibitionists split and the anti-prohibitionists enjoying themselves immensely.

A bill containing the strong features of the law which cleared Washington of disreputable houses was offered in the House yesterday by Delegate Browning, declaring all such resorts nuisances. In the afternoon there was a strong fight against a bill providing for the election of school trustees by the people ,the measure finally going to engrossment.

TURKS WANT PEACE

Heir Apparent and Officials Said to Be Looking Toward Negotiations

Paris, Jan. 26—News received in Paris that the heir apparent of Turkey is seeking to bring about a separate peace in conjunction with high Turkish officials directly inspired by the Kaiser's secret agents has created a real sensation The best informed Paris circles given entire credence to the sensational report from the Athens correspondent of the Paris Temps and find confirmation in the following significant circumstances:

First—The abandonment of the Turkish expedition to Suez which they say cannot occur this year because the railroad for the transportation for troops cannot be built before the hot weather.

Second—The abandonment of the Turk and Bulgarian offensive at Saloniki.

Third—The admission by Secretary of the Treasury Helfferich in the Reichstag that Germany's financial situation is precarious.

Fourth—The quartering of 50,000 Germans in Constantinople to check the imminent revolution.

The closest students of events here point out that Turkey has long been a dead weight on the Kaiser's hands. The bankrupt Ottoman empire is only able to uphold its end of the war as long as Germany contributes the money for troops and munitions.

French critics now point out that Germany cannot contribute to Turkey any longer, proof of which is contained in the inability of the Turks to proceed against Suez and Saloniki without Germany's help, which Helfferich's speech indicated would not be forthcoming.

Furthermore, the best informed Frenchmen say the central empires are increasingly alarmed at the growing menace of the Russians on the Galician front. They cannot afford to squander the slightest resource of men, money or arms on Turkey in the face of a Galician crisis.

Paris, Jan. 26—A dispatch received by the Temps from its Geneva correspondent states that the heir to the Turkish throne, supported by numerous Ottoman officers, has begun a movement for a separate peace

The Swiss papers declare that this move has the full sanction of Germany, which has become tired of standing the terrific strain of financing Turkey.

The former Turkish Ambassador to France and Naby Bey, as well as several other Turkish diplomats who are in Switzerland at the present time are said to be co-operating with the Turkish heir in the separate peace movement.

Milan, Jan. 26—The Gazetta Popolo today printed a dispatch from Constantinople stating that Old Turks as well as Young Turks are holding secret meetings for the purpose of forcing Turkey to make separate peace with the allies.

GRIPPE WARNINGS.

State Board of Health Placards Trains and Stations as Well.

Richmond, Jan. 26. — The State Board of Health is sending out today to all the railroads and to many of the county superintendents of schools brief printed warnings against the spread of bad colds, grippe and pneumonia, in an effort to acquaint the public with the means by which these diseases are conveyed.

Most of the railroads of the State have already agreed to have the warnings posted in all their stations, waiting-rooms and passenger trains. The board has likewise written to each county superintendent a request that he will notify the board how many placards he wants in order that one may be posted in each school. Many of the superintendents have already replied and have promised to see that the placards are distributed. Copies will be sent other superintendents as soon as they will inform the board of their willingness to cooperate in preventing the spread of these diseases.

BRITISH MAY DO AS THE GERMANS

Likely to Submarine Every Ship Appearing in the Baltic Sea

NEW BLOCKADE PLAN

Briton Says German Precedent Along This Line Has Been Recognized by the United States

London, Jan. 26.— In discussing possible obection on the part of neutrals to the suppression of British order-in-council by the declaration of an actual blockade of Germany, a British naval officer said:

"If the legality of an effective bolckade is questioned on account of the situation in the Baltic, it can be made effective by following the German precedent of submarining every ship, belligerent or neutral, which attempts to run the blockade."

The German precedent already has been actually recognized by the United States, according to this officer, in its notes on the submarine issue and the British case it is said will follow the actual German practice as limited to the safety of the passengers and the crews, but without examination of the cargoes or papers of the vessels.

It is maintained by the naval officer in question that except in the William P. Frye note the Washington government never has asserted that anything more than the safety of the crew and passengers must be provided for by an attacking submarine By this he means that traffic across the Baltic can be stopped as effectively as it was ever prevented by the northern blockade in the civil war.

If this theory of international law, tactically recognized as amended by recent practice, is adhered to, the last obstacle to the declaration of an actual blockade against Germany could be surmounted, the officer contends.

In anticipation of today's important debate in the House of Commons on the blockade question, the British government issued a four-column statement, challenging and refuting statistics recently published in the Daily Mail and the Morning Post, concerning what those newspapers have declared the hugely increased imports into the neutral countries of Holland and Scandinavia since the beginning of the war.

The statement is confined to minute and detailed figures covering all the ground dealt with by the Daily Mail and the Morning Post, for the purpose of showing numerous cases in which errors have crept into the figures, or certain circumstances ignored, all of which tend to the great inflation of the figures as given by these journals

Beyond this no attempt has been made to draw any conclusion from the figures given, neither is there a hint of any change in the government policy. In fact, despite very decided expressions of opinion heard on many sides that the government may decide to declare an actual blockade, nothing official is known and it is regarded still possible that the government may only determine to tighten the existing systems of controlling cargoes likely to reach countries at war with the Entente Powers.

BURNING COAL CHUTE

Spectacular Fire at Southern Railway Depot Last Night Causes Excitement

A spectacular fire, the second in 24 hours, practically destroyed the big coal shute in the Southern Railway freight yards in the Southwestern section of the city early last night.

The fire was discovered at 6:30 o'clock where it had broken out near the top of the big shute. The shute is nearly 90 feet high and is built principally of Georgia pine. Within a fe wminutes it was a mass of roaring flames and all of the efforts of the department to put out the blaze were unavailing.

The shute burned like tinder and the flames made a light that could be seen for miles. The blaze were fed by the coal remaining in the buckets on an endless chain from which the railway company's engines were supplied. The firemen were powerless to subdue the flames in the shute and it burned to the ground. They were enabled to prevent the spread of the flames to the shops and other buildings in the railway yards.

When the engines started to pump water for the hose they were unable to secure a supply and only one stream could be sent to the top of the shute. After half an hour they were enabled to secure more water.

The damage is estimated at from $5,000 to $10,000, according to the damage to the machinery which could not be inspected this morning.

The fire broke out again about 3 o'clock this morning. The railway employees, however, soon subdued the flames withou sounding an alarm.

MISSING BRIDES.

Richmond police are endeavoring to locate two Hopewell brides alleged to have deserted their husbands. Sam Allen, aged 28, and Hassen Mohammed, aged 25 are the deserted men. The two men stated that they were married last Christmas Eve to two Detroit sisters in Flint, Mich., Immediately afterward they set out with their brides for Hopewell, where they embarked in the restaurant business. All went well, they said until a few days ago when both brides took French leave of home. Allen and Mohammed, both of whom are of Turkish birth, said that they first began paying court to the girls several months ago when the two were working as waitresses in their restaurant in Detroit.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL RECOVERY FROM KIDNEY TROUBLE.

For nearly nine years I was a great sufferer from what my doctor said was Kidney trouble and my blood was out of order; enduring all that time excruciating pain in my back and across my bowels. I was drawn down so that I could only walk with my hands on my knees. My doctor said he could do nothing for me. I tried many kinds of medicine but all to no avail. A friend told me about Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and as I had tried everything else that I heard of, I bought a bottle of Swamp-Root, and it did wonders for me. I prize it higher than any other medicine and I shall recommend it to my friends. I wish to add right here that after using Swamp-Root for two months I began to straighten up and am now sound and well, and feel like I might live a long time yet to tell what your medicine has done for me.

Its primary object is the raising of funds which will be sent abroad but beyond that is the desire to acquaint the people of the world with some of the trials with which the Jewish people have had to contend with during the war in Europe.

The speakers at tonight's meeting are among the most distinguished in this country and they will bring a message that will no doubt appeal to everyone who is present at the meeting.

The American Jewish Relief Committee of this city obtained permission from the majority of the members of the City School Board today to place tags in the hands of the Public School Children. The tags will be on sale tomorrow.

Don't forget the War Sufferers when the children ask you to buy a tag.

APPOINTED ON NAVY LEAGUE

Four Alexandrians Will Represent Organization in Campaign

R. H. Carlin, M. S. Keen, William Westley, and Chas, D. Wood, of Alexandria, Virginia, have been appointed to the Membership Committee on the Navy League of the United States and will help to represent that organization in this district in the active, aggressive campaign which it is carrying on in all parts of the country in behalf of adequate preparedness against invasion and disaster. They will co-operate with the members of the Navy League's state committee for Virginia and will lend their energetic and enthusiastic support to the work undertaken to consolidate and organize the overwhelming setiment of thanking people of this state in behalf of measures of adequate preparedness. A special letter has been forwarded Messrs. Carlin, Keen, Westley and Wood by the Navy League, notifying them of their appointment.

Great interest is felt all over the country in the Navy League's sensational campaign in behalf of adequate national defense which has done so much toward the awakening of the American people to the danger of their undefended condition.

The Navy League is not in any sense a militarist organization. Since its foundation more than fourteen years ago it has been foremost in the work for international peace.

The Navy League is the oldest and best organized of the National Defense societies. It was founded and chartered in 1902, and among its officers and members are Admiral Dewey, Theodore Roosevelt, Cardinal Gibbons Rt. Reverend Philip Rhinelander and Dr. Lyman Abbott, while many of America's most prominent women are among the members of its Woman's Section.

COMPULSORY SEWER TAPPING.

As will be seen by the proceedings of the City Council, house-owners will be given until next August to tap the city sewers. An ordinance was passed in 1912 making it obligatory upon the part of those owning property on streets or alleys where sewers have been constructed to connect with the same within three years. The time was subsequently extended until today. Under the ordinance adopted last night by unanimous votes in both branches of Council the time is farther extended to the first of next August.

The placing of sewers in the city began about thirty years ago, although there had been some minor outlets to the river previous to that time. But few persons, however, availed themselves of this great desideratum until what was known as the old tan yard ditch was bricked over and converted into the cloaka maxima. This extends from Henry street north of Cameron in a southeasterly direction to Hunting Creek. It now has many lateral branches.

The large sewer which connects with Hooff's Run on upper Duke street is also capacious, and this has been extended easterly and northerly into other thoroughfares.

A large percentage of the houses of the city now have sewer connections, and applications for permits are being issued all the time. The city has already received $1,500 from this source this month, while $12,000 was received last year.

While some persons have not acted with the expedition that was expected by the law-makers, it is believed that most of those interested are doing the best they can under the circumstances, and doubtless before the dog days set in most houses on streets and alleys where sewers have been constructed will have been connected with the same.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER.

Previous to the year 1886 Wilkes street almost throughout its entire length was minus sidewalks. No part of the roadway had been paved up to that time and but little since. The road to the cemeteries in rainy weather was at most places a quagmire and great inconvenience was experienced by those who attended funerals. The United States government, desiring a good roadway and sidewalk to the National Cemetery, appropriated a sufficient sum of money to construct a macadam roadway and brick sidewalk from Alfred street to the cemetery. This was a great desideratum and was as much a convenience to Alexandrians as to strangers who came here to visit the national burying ground. In 1896, after ten years' wear, the roadway showed ruts and was inviting repairs. Government officials called attention to this fact, and suggested that inasmuch as the improvements made ten years before had cost the city nothing, the latter should keep the roadway in repair. The Mayor of the city, with whom the government officials had communicated, laid the matter before the committee on streets of the City Council, but the members took the singular ground that as the government had built the roadway it should keep it in order. This the government refused to do, but announced that the road from Payne street to the cemetery would be kept in good shape, and it has been ever since.

The street from Payne street east to Alfred was neglected and the digging of trenches in which to lay gas and water mains soon made the roadway unsightly, and in summer rank reeds were conspicuous.

At the meeting of Council last night a resolution was introduced and referred to the committee on streets, appropriating $400 for improving Wilkes street east from Alfred. This should have been done twenty years ago.

DANGEROUS PASTTIME.

The recent serious accident to a Richmond fireman while hurrying to answer a false alarm has resulted in a movement for the enactment of a law making it a felony for any person to cause a useless alarm. The Richmonder's skull was fractured while sliding down a pole in the engine house, and his death is expected.

The fire alarm fiend flourishes in every community. At times he causes a panic at public gatherings, which results in injuries and in some cases death. Some persons suffer all their lives from pyromania, delighting to see fire apparatus hurrying through the streets, which often causes horses to run away with serious results.

Alexandria has suffered long from this species of the genus homo. If a householder starts to burn a pile of rubbish in his back yard some passionate lover of excitement blares out "fire!" and the entire city is in convulsions for half an hour or more. The burning of a chimney, intentionally, on a rainy day is sure to bring out the fire department.

Many practical Alexandrians have pleaded long for the installation of a fire alarm system here. With such a modern contrivance those who turn in alarms could be held responsible. As it is now small boys or other irresponsible persons can bring out the fire apparatus ad libitum. The firemen often start out with no objective point in view and run from one point of the compass to the other before they discover they have been "sold."

MUST GET A NEW SYMBOL

The peace apostles who carry a dove in their baggage had better change their symbolical baggage. The Audubon Society has declared through Norman McClintock, of Pittsburgh, ornothologist that the dove is not a bird of peace, but one of the most pugnacious of feathered fighters. In fact, the dove fights a large part of his waking hours.

PEACE SOUNDINGS

(Baltimore American)

Germany, with natural thoroughness, is taking deep sea soundings for peace. It made the first real attempt of the kind when the triumph of the Central Powers and Bulgaria, over Serbia gave the enemies of the entente full sweep in the Balkans—at least, so the situation was then construed. Berlin was surprised after being beaten, the enemy was not disposed to consider terms.

Now the deep-sea soundings are being shifted to particular shoals. The mean depth of the war tide in Japanese waters is being calculated in the hope that peace may find harborage in Tokio. But there seems to be no basis for hope of a separate peace there.

With respect to Belgium the soundings may show more favorable returns. But the conclusion of peace with the violated country would not promote the general peace that Germany seeks. The peace with Montenegro seems to have been a subterfuge rather than a capitulation.

But Germany is, nevertheless, to be commended for trying out the prospects of peace in every direction It may thus fail to factionalize the alliance of its foes. But it will be promoting the work of attrition for peace in intelligent manner.

Information from a high Austrian source states that Emperor Francis Joseph has a high fever and that the physicians attending him fear that complications may result from the attack of bronchitis from which he is suffering.

Gen. Aylmer's relief expedition has been defeated by the Turks with great loss on the Tigris. "We counted 3,000 English dead," says a Reuter dispatch from Constantinople, quoting from a Turkish official report.

Fire resulting from an air raid by sixteen French aeroplanes has partly destroyed Monastir. The same squadron of aeroplanes attacked the Austro-German and Bulgarian camps at Guevgheli. Estimates of the casualties vary from 100 to 1,000. All the aeroplanes returned safely to their base.

The United States is understood to have rejected as being partially unsatisfactory, Germany's latest proposal in the Lusitania negotiations. Secretary Lansing, with the approval of President Wilson, is said to have so informed Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, during a conference late yesterday at the State Department.

Twenty or more lives have been taken by storms of rain and snow, which have swept the Pacific coast for a week. Weather bureau experts last night held out no predictions for relief. Property damage has been estimated at $2,500,000 or $3,000,000 in Southern California and around Yuma, Ariz. In the north is was less easy to reckon.

The Serbian anarchist Nedyeliko Garbrinovic, who attempted to assassinate the heir apparent to the Austrian throne, the Archduke Ferdinand at Serejevo, has died in prison. He had been sentenced to 20 years at hard labor. The attack by Gabrinovic was made in October, 1914, a few hours before Gavrio Princip, the Serbian student, shot to death the Archduke and his wife, the act that really started the European war.

A store operated by Miss Kate Peale, near the scene of the lynching, has been robbed five times recently. On Monday night her brother found three colored men in the act of robbing the store again and he succeeded in capturing Burton who was promptly lynched.

The Red Cross organization, it has become known, was recently looking for suitable premises in Paris for a hospital. Its officials wanted to be upon the Avenue Des Champs Elysees if they could and sent representatives to interview property holders there. Inquiries were made at six buildings, and the reply in each case was the same. "We would be glad to let you have our buildings," the owners said, "but we must reserve those windows which look out upon the avenue, as they have all been taken by Americans to view the triumphal peace procession."

Recent embargoes imposed by Denmark and Sweden, particularly on exports to Germany, are interpreted in Washington, by a high administration official as meaning that the Scandinavian countries have entered upon "a policy of preparation" out of fear that they may be plunged into the European war at any time. This view, which is taken by other students of European affairs in close touch with the trend of recent developments, is regarded as confirmatory of reports from private sources that Sweden and Denmark are verging on a outbreak It supports the belief of lesser officials that the Scandinavian countries realize there is imminent danger of their becoming involved actively in the European conflict.

The probable fatal injury suffered by Fireman Parrish, of Richmond, Monday night, while responding to a false alarm of fire, has revived the interest of officials of the fire department in the problem of suppressing the "false alarm fool." The enactment of a law making the turning in of a false alarm a felony, is proposed. The maximum fine that can now be imposed is $200, A more severe penalty prescribed might cure the false alarm fool of his mania.

In his efforts to stop the frightened horses Mr. Burner was thrown under the wagon, the wheels passing over his body and inflicting injuries which physicians fear will superinduce pneumonia. MRS. MOHR'S MOTIVE

Providence, Jan. 26—"I asked Brown why Mrs. Mohr wanted to have the doctor killed—whether it was jealousy or what—and Brown said he understood it was to get control of the doctor's estate."

This was part of the testimony of Ralph E. Bailey in the Mohr trial here yesterday afternoon. He was one of the many reporters with whom the three negroes, after their arrest discussed the murder of Dr. Franklin Mohr.

This statement might have passed as insignificant had it not been for a subsequent bit of harmless-looking evidense the State offered in the shape of the Probate Court proceedings affecting the estate of the slain man.

Wilford D. Rogers, clerk of the Probate Court, identified at the request of Attorney General Rice the application made by Mrs. Mohr for appointment as administratrix of her husband's estate.

Mr. Rice inquired casually, "And on what date was this application filed?"

"September 1st," answered the witness. This was the thrill that electrified the courtroom. September 1st was the day Dr. Mohr died in the Rhode Island Hospital.

"Did she mention in that petition that there were other heirs?" asked Mr. Rice.

"She mentioned Charles F. Mohr, Jr,. and Virginia B. Mohr," (her own children).

This was additional evidence tending to show that Mrs. Mohr's primary motive in instigating her husband's murder was to get control of his money.

She had failed to mention in this first petition the doctor's children by his first wife. By this stroke, the State succeeded in wiping out again the sentimental effect on the jury of the charges in her separation proceedings read into the record Monday. There she alleged that he had treated her with excessive cruelty, associated openly with other women was an opium fiend and a drunkard.

Louis Smet.

It is desired to have present a large attendance of citizens on this occasion, and it is with that object in view that the undersigned cordially extend to you an invitation to be present, assuring you that they will deeply appreciate the manifestation of your interest in this work of humanity. Should you feel inclined to make a contribution in any sum, be it ever so little ,the same will be devoted to the purposes specified and gratefully acknowledged by the committee having the matter in charge.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months.

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.
